Consent

The Opening Educational Practices in Scotland (OEPS) project facilitates best practice in Scottish open education. As part of the project we collect case studies of good practice in open education.

OEPS is committed to openness and, where possible, audio/video recordings and photographs will be released under a Creative Commons (CC) Attribution licence. This means that case studies may eventually appear on publicly accessible sites. We also disseminate information about our case studies through social media (e.g. microblogging, blogging), written reports, published papers and presentations.

By signing this statement, you confirm that you understand the above and are willing to provide a case study.
